

Why should 'different'

mean 'undeserved'?

Did you realise that most animals raised in Australia are excluded from cruelty laws? That's around 500 million Australian farm animals who are denied legal protection from acts of cruelty—despite the fact that their capacity to suffer is the same as the dogs and cats we share our homes with.

Animals Australia works fearlessly and tirelessly to protect all animals.

We conduct ground breaking investigations that expose the shocking abuse of millions of animals exported live to the Middle East.

We campaign to abolish factory farms where hundreds of thousands of pregnant and mother pigs spend weeks on end locked in metal cages little bigger than their own bodies—where they are unable to nurture their young or even turn around.

We fight to free hundreds of millions of sensitive female hens crammed in battery cages with a 'living' space smaller than an A4 sheet of paper—tormented by an inability to build a nest and lay eggs in privacy.

Animals Australia does not discriminate. We believe in exposing cruelty in all its forms and giving a voice to those who have no voice of their own.

"I have witnessed the most terrible acts of animal cruelty throughout the Middle East and in Australia. These animals desperately need our voice. They need us to right the wrongs. Please support the work of Animals Australia."

—Lyn White,
Animals Australia
Investigator

It's time to right the wrongs. Donate to end animal cruelty.

Call 1800 888 584 or visit AnimalsAustralia.org/join and become a part of Australia's most dynamic and committed animal protection organisation.

Animals Australia
the voice for animals